IMPORTANT MEETING OF CITRUS GROWERS AT COVINA TOMORROW

"Jobbers Are Robbers," Alleges Orange Man—High Prices in East and Low Prices Here do not Correspond—One Manager Charges Rake-off

COVINA, April 14.—Citrus growers in the Covina Valley are discussing what they consider a critical condition in the orange marketing. Several growers who have been for years marketing their oranges through the California Fruit Growers' Exchange have formed a local committee and have announced a mass meeting to be held in the Covina Union high school auditorium tomorrow night, and the advertising matter sent out bears the query, "What is the matter with the orange marketing system?"

C. E. Crawford, manager of the Covina Orange Growers' Association, a concern marketing its oranges through the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, charges openly that the growers are being robbed by eastern jobbers and retailers. He goes into the subject in tabulated figures, taking many of the carloads from his own packing house as a basis for making his assertion.

Crawford states that he does not make the accusations as an association manager, but as an individual; but it has been determined that the board of directors of the Covina Orange Growers' Association is backing him in his attitude. It is thought that the rake-off of the jobbers and retailers who handle all citrus fruits, both exchange and independent fruit alike, should be investigated.

The orchardists of the valley are thoroughly aroused on account of the poor showing that has been made during the last two years. W. M. Griswold, manager of the Covina Fruit Exchange, which handles all fruit of the associations for the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, makes the statement that the management of the exchange has done all that could be done to return a profit to the grower—that the low prices are due to political conditions, to the low-bidding capacity of the people of the eastern states due to Democratic low tariff and accompanying hard times, and that a heavier amount of decay in California oranges this year has cut down profits materially.

Griswold states that the California citrus growers are in better condition than the apple growers of Oregon and Washington; that all products of the soil have met with disastrous marketing conditions this year, and that it is manifestly unfair to criticize the exchange or other citrus marketing concerns under such prevailing conditions. General Manager G. Harold Powell of the exchange has also made the same statement in the Covina Valley.

The individual growers, however, have reached a point where they believe that a rigid investigation should be made. The growers are constantly in receipt of news from the east that oranges are selling at a reasonably good price and they believe that a better return to the grower should be made because of this fact.

C. C. Chapman, grower and shipper of Old Mission oranges at Fullerton, perhaps the most prominent grower of oranges in the state, has consented to address the Covina meeting tomorrow. The growers feel that Mr. Chapman will handle the situation in an impartial manner. Other speakers from Riverside and Los Angeles have been secured, and a general invitation has been sent to the growers of every citrus community in Southern California.

JITNEY BUS DRIVERS START MERRY WAR AMONG THEMSELVES

San Francisco Organizations Getting Ready to Carry Fight Into Court

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—Jitney bus drivers are at war among themselves today.

Three members of the San Francisco Jitney Bus Association have filed with the county clerk incorporation papers for a new organization of the same name.

Thomas Doyle, secretary of the original organization, declares that the movement merely is an attempt of disgruntled members of the old association to steal its name, and threatens injunction proceedings.

PROPOSE THAT A NEW SCHOOL OFFICE BE CREATED

When the newly-elected Board of Education meets for organization about the first thing that it will have up for consideration will be the creation of a new office in connection with the schools, or, rather, the enlargement of the duties of secretary into bookkeeper, purchasing agent and business agent for the schools.

That it has been planned to name P. L. Toole to the new position is known by a number of those who are connected with the schools.

For a good many years past the practice of the school board has been to name one of its members as secretary with a salary of $25 a month. John Beatty was secretary for eight years, and during the last four years Mrs. W. H. Smart has been secretary. It is now proposed to appoint some one outside of the board to be secretary and raise the salary. The new secretary will be expected to give all or a large portion of his time to the work.

Many of the details that it is proposed to turn over to the new secretary have hitherto been attended to by City Superintendent Cranston or committees of the board.

If the plan suggested is carried out, the system of bookkeeping of the schools will be elaborated. The purchasing of supplies and attention to the repairing of buildings will be listed among the duties of the secretary.

Our President of the United States has ordered that flags of all public buildings be placed at half mast, and we, in respect to that proper order of our President and in veneration of our beloved Abraham Lincoln would most respectfully ask all of the citizens of our city who have flags to display to place them at half mast. PLUNDER TUSTIN STORE OF MORE THAN $100 IN FINE SHOES

Shoes valued at more than $100 were stolen from the stock of the H. Romer general merchandise store, Tustin, some time last night.

When Romer opened up his store this morning he saw that the side door had been unlocked. An investigation revealed the fact that the burglars had stolen about thirty-four pairs of high grade shoes. The shoes taken were valued at from four to five dollars a pair. The thieves took the footwear out of the cardboard boxes and presumably put them in sacks.

Sheriff Jackson was called immediately after the discovery of the crime. He made a careful investigation but was unable to find any clues. Romer is certain that at least thirty-four pairs of shoes were stolen. It is possible that other articles were taken, but if this is the case it has not yet been learned, owing to the great variety and quantity of goods in stock.

The burglar either sneaked into the store before closing time last night and hid himself or used a skeleton key to gain entry, as there were no marks of violence on the side door.

CONSENT GIVEN FOR ISSUANCE OF BONDS

YORBA LINDA, April 14.—At a meeting of the directors of the Yorba Linda Water Company Monday afternoon it was found that written consent of the holders of more than two-thirds of the issue of stock had been placed on file, granting permission to issue bonds in the sum of $150,000.

The directors passed the necessary legal steps and will proceed at once to have the bonds issued and placed on the market, to liquidate all existing debts and make improvements in the great water system.

BRITAIN TACKLES DEMON RUM AS PARLIAMENT CONVENES IN WAR MEET

PETROGRAD, April 14.—Two entire companies of Russian infantry yesterday marched off a snow-masked precipice in the Carpathians and met death on the crags below.

The Russian right has advanced ten miles toward Hungary in the last few days, with only slight losses.

Until Uszok Pass is won the right wing will not advance further.

LONDON, April 14.—The most determined attack on the defenses of the Dardanelles since three of the allies' ships were sunk on March 18, is indicated in official reports today.

In a bombardment occurring Monday, two of the allies' warships were seriously damaged, according to Constantinople dispatches, but the British Press Bureau passes that report as unconfirmed.

All dispatches say several warships entered the straits but were forced to retire.

Sofia dispatches say the roar of guns was terrific and could be heard more than forty miles.

Word comes from the correspondent at Dedagatch that the bombardment continued for several hours.

LONDON, April 14.—With the liquor question uppermost in the minds of members, Parliament convened today in what may prove the most important session of the war.

The meeting was distinctly a war session, with men in khaki, fresh from the trenches, on the floor, and intense public interest was manifested.

After the House of Commons had formally assembled a query was addressed to Premier Asquith regarding the Cabinet's decision in the liquor question.

Asquith announced that the Cabinet will not order prohibition, but that the question of prohibiting or regulating the sale of liquor will be left to the people through the House of Commons, the Ministry having decided the question to be too vital a one for the Cabinet to decide.

Lewis Harcourt, secretary for the Colonies, intimated that the Government would consult Canada, Austria and New Zealand when the time arrives to make peace, and added that he had no observations to make concerning the prospect of early peace.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—No official report has been received today from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin regarding the note of German Ambassador von Bernstorff to the Washington Government accusing America of violating the spirit of neutrality by permitting the shipment of war munitions to the allies.

Unofficial dispatches to the State Department indicate that the Berlin foreign office will assume all responsibility for Von Bernstorff's utterances.

PARIS, April 14.—Three civilians were killed in a Zeppelin attack yesterday on Bailleul, the war office announced today.

Two German aviators were captured at Braine and Lunville when they were compelled to descend by engine trouble.

Another was killed in a fall at Verdun.

BERLIN, April 14.—The French have resumed the offensive on both sides of the German wedge at St. Mihiel, the war office announces today.

There is violent fighting on the north side of the wedge near Marcheville, and the war office admits the French took several German positions, but asserts that Germans won them back by terrific charges with reinforcements.

The French have been strongly reinforced south of the wedge between St. Mihiel and Pont-a-Mousson and all attacks have been repulsed. Attempts to mine a German trench were frustrated by rapid fire. Fighting has been resumed southwest of Colmar and a battle in Alsace is developing.

BERLIN, April 14.—More than half a million Russians have been killed and wounded or are missing since the beginning of the Carpathian campaign, according to semi-official estimates here.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Captain Thierfeldt of the Kron Prinz Wilhelm has been notified by Assistant Treasurer Peters how long he may remain at Newport News. The information is denied for publication. Daniels has ordered the Eitel naval board to make an investigation of the repairs required to the Kron Prinz Wilhelm.

RAIN, WIND, HAIL IN FREAK GALE LASH TOWNS AND VALLEY OF BERDOO

SAN BERNARDINO, April 14.—A terrific thunderstorm, the worst that has visited this section in years, shook the mountains and valley yesterday for the space of an hour; then sunshine and a clear sky followed a heavy down-fall of hail and torrents of rain driven under the eaves by the strong wind.

A high voltage line over the circus grounds at Rialto avenue and K street gave way under the strain of the rain, wind and hail and broke near the stable tent. The broken ends of the live wire set fire to hay and for a time a semblance of pandemonium broke loose.

The storm drove hundreds of fishermen to cover. The rain on the crest turned to snow and last night the hills were covered with a blanket several inches deep. It is not thought that the fishing in the mountains will be hurt by the storm.

The hail fell for about ten minutes and the ground was white with the pellets. Vegetation to some extent was damaged by the downpour, but it is believed it was insufficient to injure oranges or young fruit on the deciduous trees.

UPLAND, April 14.—A gentle rain fell here Monday night, followed at noon yesterday by one of the most severe electrical, rain, hail, wind and thunderstorms ever experienced in this section at this time of year.

RIALTO, April 14.—The hardest hail storm that has been in Rialto for some time fell about 1 o'clock yesterday.

ATTORNEY ATER HOLDS
THE ELECTION IS LEGAL ONE

Attorney W. F. Ater holds that the city election is valid notwithstanding error in preparation of the ballot.

He says: "When a number is printed on the ballots instead of the stubs and inadvertently overlooked and some are voted as printed, the voted ballots are valid. The error does not contravene either the law of secrecy, distinguishing marks or the ballot. And when numbers are separated from the ballot after discovery of the error, it is not a mutilated ballot in contemplation of the law.

"The following authorities are cited to support this rule: In Farnham vs. Boland, 134 Cal. 151, a similar error was made in a different manner and the court says: 'It is claimed that the trial court should have rejected ballots (in an election contest case) which had the stub attached to them—a stub that should have remained in the book from which the ballots were taken. We hold these ballots were properly counted, and likewise those were properly counted which the officers of election placed in the ballot box without first tearing therefrom the numbers attached.' This case has been cited and followed in Feshour vs. Howard, 142 Cal. 501; People vs. Brewett, 124 Cal. 13; McGrane vs. N. P. County, 18 Ida. 711 or 112 Pac. 312.

"The principle underlying these decisions is that the rights of the voters should not be prejudiced by errors or wrongful acts of the officers of the election, unless it shall appear that a fair election and an honest count were thereby prevented. (People vs. Brewett.)

"A case on all fours with the present case is found in McGrane vs. N. P. County, supra, and the court cites and quotes approvingly the language of each of the above opinions of our Supreme Court.

"The law as to identifying marks refers to marks made by the voter, and it is only marks made by him that demand the rejection of the ballot.

"The McGrane case cites many authorities in other jurisdictions which need not be here repeated.

"Our penal code No. 49 provides that if any inspector, judge or clerk fraudulently or illegally discovers how the elector votes and discloses such information, he is punishable by fine and imprisonment or both.

"City Attorney Heathman advises me he directed all votes counted and that it has been so done. I conclude the candidates have had a fair vote and count, that the electors have been protected in their right of suffrage and that the secrecy of the ballot has not been infringed, and that under the circumstances all has been done that could well be done."

IF BACK HURTS
BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally If You Eat Meat Regularly

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Medicated acids which clog the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of stinging, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Advertisement.

COL. FINLEY AIDED IN
HUNT FOR MORALES,
THE DESPERADO

The story in last night's Register concerning Ken Wilson's capture of Sylvester Morales in 1889 started a lot of the old-timers to telling reminiscences of the Morales scare and capture. The desperado's wild exploits have been gone over by a number of those who were in this section during the weeks of excitement when Morales was abroad.

"I well remember one incident of those exciting days," said S. H. Finley, chief engineer of the County Highway Commission. "At that time I was night editor of the Daily Blade, which was then a morning paper. Everybody was on edge over the situation.

"George T. Insley, who was an officer here, was taking a prominent part in efforts to capture Morales. One night he got word that Morales and the girl he had stolen were at a Mexican's house near the picnic grounds, which we now know as the county park. Finley organized a posse of about a dozen men to surround the house. E. D. Waffle, Henry Neill, E. S. Wallace and I were among those who armed ourselves with rifles, revolvers and knives. We went horseback to a point about half a mile from the house. There we tied our horses and sneaked quietly up to the house. Insley stationed us about it, and we waited for morning.

"Morning came. Finally a Mexican walked out of the house. We thought he was Morales. Suddenly he found himself covered with guns. He certainly was a much surprised Mexican. He was not Morales. Morales was not there and we could find nothing that indicated that he had been there."

Col. Finley well remembers the details of the capture of Morales as outlined in the story of it as told yesterday by Ken Wilson, chief of police at San Diego.

"Wilson's fearless capture of the desperado certainly made him a popular hero," said Col. Finley.

TURNS OVER, ONE MAN
SEVERELY INJURED

Anaheim Herald, April 13: Bill Gast was injured last night as he and a friend were returning from a party at Santa Ana. The accident occurred on South Los Angeles street about a mile below the city limits.

As the boys were coming along the wet pavement Gast thought one of his tires was flat and threw on the brakes. The car skidded and turned over twice. Christiansen was thrown clear of the car and was uninjured but Gast stayed with the car and suffered a cracked breast bone and had his collar bone and one rib torn loose. The big car, a Buick 40, was damaged, but the boys were lucky in not getting hurt more seriously. Dr. Truxaw gave the injured man medical attention and today he was taken to his home in West Anaheim.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color and that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—Advertisement.

FRACTURED BONE IS RESULT OF ACCIDENT

It developed yesterday afternoon that Miss Florence Keefe, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Keefe, 1020 Ross street, and who was in the accident at the corner of Ross and Fifth streets in which Ernestine Brown of 1030 North Ross street was seriously bruised, suffered a fracture of one of the small bones of her ankle. It was at first thought that Miss Keefe was uninjured. Reports today were to the effect that Miss Brown was not injured internally. Her bruised arm and leg will be unable to leave her home for a week or ten days. The automobile that ran into the two girls, both of whom are said to have been riding the same wheel, was occupied by James T. Smith, 1130 West Fifth street, and William Stone, from Iowa, who is visiting Smith. It is said the accident was unavoidable.

HE DOES NOT WANT TO SEND TO JAIL MAN WHO STABS HIM

Bernabe Romero wants by-gones to be by-gones. It angers him deeply because the authorities won't let him have his way about it.

Last Sunday night Romero was a participant in a jollification fracas at Dyer. He had a man down on the ground and was using his fists hilariously when Jose Velos joined in the celebration by jabbing Romero three times in the back. Romero used a knife with sufficient effect to send Romero to the County Hospital. Velos was taken to jail.

At the hospital, Romero was placed in the hospital cell with barred windows. He declared that unless Dr. Zaiser let him go he would wreck the building and go anyhow.

Today Romero was transferred to the county jail. When he was given a chance to sign a complaint charging Velos with using a deadly weapon with intent to kill, Romero said he did not want to make trouble for Velos. He did not want to prosecute him.

But Velos was nevertheless charged, and will be prosecuted. Then came a surprise for Romero. He was charged with disturbing the peace.

A SERIES—NUMBER FOUR (By David Powell—Copyright, 1915.)

In a small city of western Kansas, the incoming flood of catalogues and the outgoing flood of money orders had reached such proportions that the merchants became convinced that their commercial death was fast approaching; they saw their city dwindling in population and degenerating in appearance; they saw the young men of the town daily striking out for the larger cities; and they felt that the spirit of local pride was broken and that the vital bonds of community welfare were being slowly dissolved by the corroding acids of ignorance and greed.

Very fortunately, however, for the future welfare of that little town it contained one man who still retained a spark of hope in his heart. He organized the business interests of the city into a Community Welfare Club for the purpose of fanning the dying embers of home patriotism into a living flame. The club was out for everything that promised to help the community, but they could think of nothing that would help so much, as for the old town to get back some of the business it had lost to the mail-order houses.

After thoroughly canvassing the situation they became convinced that, as a matter of dollars and cents the mail-order houses could not supply the community with its necessities and luxuries more cheaply, in the long run, than could their local merchants. Consequently they determined to place the matter in the hands of a specialist, a man who could analyze a price and clearly demonstrate the true values upon which it was based; a man who could meet the consumer on his own ground and shoot facts at him straight from the shoulder without giving offense.

The man selected for this work had for many years been a factory cost expert, and after giving the matter a great deal of thoughtful consideration, he concluded that the most effective way to convince the consumer of the wisdom of patronizing home merchants would be to put before them in a plain and convincing manner the basic and generally little understood principles of merchandising, the object in view being to make clear the fact that it costs approximately the same to market an article by any of the different methods of modern merchandising—whether from the shelves of the home merchant or from the highly centralized catalogue houses of the large cities.

This man's experience had fitted him to handle the subject in an exceptionally intelligent manner, and the subsequent success of the undertaking proved the soundness of his theories. In the literature sent out by the club, he begins with the manufacture of an article and follows it step by step to the hands of the ultimate customer through both the mail-order and regular channels of trade.

In proving the fact that the large catalogue concerns have but little advantage over other merchants in buying their goods he says: "The modern factory, manufacturing staple products, enjoys keener competition, if possible, than any other line of business. It must sell its products to the retailer at a price that will return the smallest profit possible that will permit a reasonable return on the money investment. Should a factory put a price on its product that would return to its stockholders more than a fair rate of interest, either its competitor would undersell it, or new capital, of which there is always an abundance seeking investment, would enter the field and eventually bring the price of the article down to the point that would return to the stockholders a rate of interest satisfactory to investors in such securities. In dwelling on this, the purpose is to show that under the present industrial conditions the selling price of a manufactured article is determined solely by its cost of production.

"Every modern factory now has a cost system which shows to the fraction of a cent the cost of their product when it leaves the shipping room. San Pedro Sunday. They brought Miss Leona Griffiths home from Long Beach where she has been visiting since Tuesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sykes returned from Marietta Sunday evening, having been absent for two days.

Christian Science lecture Thursday evening at the Grand Opera House.

It must be sold at a certain figure to pay a certain percentage of profit. It costs no more per case to manufacture the ten cases for little John Smith than it does per case the thousand for the larger buyer, and if both offer the same terms of payment they will be charged approximately the same price. The little John Smith scattered over the country are the takers of the bulk of the manufactured products of the country and they are the ones the manufacturer has in mind when he puts the lowest possible price on his product. If, in quoting John Smith his regular price—a price kept down by keen competition, he is making only a minimum profit, how can he by any possibility quote a lower one without seriously affecting his dividends? You know dividends are what factories are run to make.

"Many catalogue houses lay great stress on their ability to sell an article at a low price because they 'own their own factory.' Is there any good reason to believe that their factory can manufacture an article cheaper than any other factory simply because they own it? Catalogue houses owning factories, and factories using the tempting phrase, 'We sell direct to the consumer,' in reality have but little advantage over the independent retailer insofar as price is concerned, because their product, when it leaves the manufacturing department, must be charged to the selling department at exactly the same price it would be charged to an independent retailer, were they themselves not in the retail business. So you see that the great stress laid on the factory-owning feature by the larger catalogue houses is pure, plain, unadulterated buncombe with a capital B."

In explaining how such houses are able to occasionally quote low prices on standard goods of well known makes, he has to say: "Catalogue houses as well as other merchants, often have opportunities to purchase at reduced prices, what is known to the trade as 'job lots.' A factory may discontinue the manufacture of a certain style, and having a large stock of that particular pattern on hand, will offer the entire lot at cost, or even less. While of course such merchandise is of standard quality, it naturally must have lost its desirability in the eyes of the critical consumer, otherwise there would be no reason for discontinuing the manufacture of it. With this exception, and the occasional opportunity they have of purchasing bankrupt factory stocks, the arguments and facts as presented are incontrovertible."

In addition to gathering the data contained in the literature and circulating it, this man also went out amongst the farmers as a "home trade" missionary. Though he was strong for home sentiment he always went straight to the point of the farmer's pocketbook, and stood ready to show the customer of the mail-order house that, month in and month out, he was actually losing money by not trading with the home merchants.

In his figures he left nothing out of his calculations—not a postage stamp or an express toll escaped his eye. He was up on brands and qualities of merchandise. He took samples of foodstuffs from the local store and made side-by-side comparisons of them in the farm kitchen with the foods bought from the mail-order concern.

The club was made a social center for the entire community, especially for the farmers and their families. Gradually a testing laboratory of a crude sort was built up in the club, and here many an argument as to quality of goods was settled. The consumer and the storekeeper were both taught to be better judges of quality in all lines of goods.

Today the mail-order trade in that community is steadily declining, business and residence real estate in the city is slowly advancing in price; the town looks good to the growing young folks and they are not so eager were some of their immediate predecessors to shake the dust of the town from their feet.

A SUGGESTION

The finest and best stretch of road in the State of California is about thirteen miles long, from the north city limits of Fullerton to the east city limits of Santa Ana. Almost as good a road already extends north and west from Fullerton through the incomparably rich and beautiful La Habra Valley, connecting with the fine boulevards of Los Angeles County; and soon the same kind of road will extend south and east through the great ranches of Orange County to the San Diego County line.

But considering only the central section of the state highway through this county, from Fullerton to Santa Ana, with its substantial concrete base and fine asphalt surfacing; considering the rich and beautiful and densely populated territory through which it passes, with the thriving towns of Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton—with Orange just off the main line, but a part of the splendid whole—what an opportunity we have for making a drive-way that would cause Orange County and its principal towns to be known and talked of all over the world!

Some plan should be, and we believe could be devised for the systematic planting of trees and flowering shrubs, the placing of ornamental lights, and the cultivation of roadsides and railroad right-of-way at least from Fullerton to Orange and Santa Ana.

An improvement district might be formed for the initial improvements, and the care might be in charge of the County Board of Forestry and the work done, in the main, by county prisoners, or the inmates of the county farm. Or, under the direction and management of the County Forester or some one else, a voluntary co-operative organization might be effected whereby the county and the property owners along the highway would equitably share the work and expense incident to such an improvement.

Of its desirability and material and aesthetic value there can be no question, and that it can be accomplished if the Associated Chambers of Commerce will take it vigorously in hand there can be little doubt.

THE DRUG PROBLEM

Drug addiction is very common in this country and constitutes a menace to the nation, according to an article in the Public Health Reports for March 19, 1915, which reviews the efforts made to lessen the abuse of habit-forming drugs and analyzes the federal and state laws restricting or regulating the distribution and use of opium, coca and other narcotic and habit-forming drugs.

The abuse of narcotic drugs involves economic, social, moral and public health questions that collectively constitute one of the most serious problems before the people of the United States today.

In New York and several other states, drug addiction is regarded as a disease, and these states have provided a systematic treatment for those addicted to the use of drugs, while in Michigan such a person may be adjudged incompetent and a guardian appointed. A law recently enacted in Tennessee permits the sale of narcotics to drug addicts registered according to the law. Similar laws exist in other states, but the New York law for treatment of drug addicts is considered the better measure.

The principal shortcomings of the present laws are that no method of enforcement is outlined and no specific appropriations are made for their enforcement.

In order to bring about a uniformity in the enactment and enforcement of anti-narcotic laws, those who are interested in the subject should make a careful comparative study of the existing laws to determine the reasons for the inadequacy of these laws. Statistics should be compiled showing the nature and extent of the use of habit-forming drugs, and earnest efforts should be made to secure uniform legislation which will prevent the mis-use of such drugs.

The solution of the drug problem to the new federal anti-narcotic law which aims to reduce the number of drug addicts and to remove the temptation from others.

The chief of the St. Louis detective force puts out this chunk of wisdom: "I am frequently asked what is the type of man who goes wrong. The answer is that there is no particular type. There is a clear type of man who never is in trouble, however. This is the man who lives within his means, who saves a part of his earnings each day and week and year. It does not matter how much just so he lives within his income and saves."

We can all find strength to carry our burden for one day; to be kind, and sweet, and true, and firm, just till night falls. This is all life ever asks of us. To fight one day's temptation; do one day's duties; check angry and fretful humors; hold our tongues in subjection, and, if we can say nothing kind, say nothing at all, for just one day.

Chester H. Rowell, in California Outlook

One may not blame the politicians in the Legislature for being so tremendously agitated over the non-partisan bill, but if these politicians imagine that their agitation reflects any corresponding state of mind in the people, they are simply blind to facts.

The people may have looked askance at non-partisanship once, when it was unfamiliar, just because it was unfamiliar; indeed, there was once a time when the people themselves were partisans. We can remember when men used to boast of voting "the straight ticket, from President to constable," and the "bolter" was the supreme traitor. In those days, the county-seat papers, themselves chiefly concerned for the county printing (for which they charged eleven prices) used to stir up a real public interest in the struggle to get the Democratic thieves out of the court house and put the Republican thieves in, or vice versa. But that time is long since past. There is no longer any straight ticket to vote, and nobody would vote it if there were.

We first abolished partisanship in city affairs and soon forgot that there had never been any such thing.

Then two years ago we abolished partisanship in county affairs, and the transition to the new system was so easy that people wondered how we could ever have had any other.

The next step was non-partisanship in state offices, and the people already took that step, before the Legislature had the boldness to formulate it into law. The very Assembly which is now debating the bill is itself a monument to non-partisanship. Its 80 members received between them, 153 party nominations. A decided majority of all this Assembly is composed of persons who received more than one, and on the average more than two party nominations. Certainly if the people regarded party lines as important, in bestowing nominations, they would have nominated the same men for most of the offices, on most of the party tickets, even under the primary law which made all these nominations through party primaries.

On state offices, the nominations and the voters were equally non-partisan. The large majority of the voters of the state were registered as either Republicans or Democrats, but for state offices below governor and senator they insisted, in most cases, on giving the Progressive candidates the Republican and Democratic nominations, and they would have been likely to do the same thing even for the highest offices, if the candidates had permitted it. And at the final election, the results have no resemblance to the party divisions. The three striking victories were Johnson, Progressive, for governor; Phelan, Democrat, for senator; and Jordan, Republican, for secretary of state—and Jordan had

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM EXPLAINED

(From the L. A. Financial News.)

Group two of the California Bankers' Association embracing banks of Fresno, Kings, Kern, Madera and Tulare counties, listened to a special address by Mr. Kaim, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank for this Twelfth district, of San Francisco at their meeting in Fresno. Mr. Kaim's theme was The Federal Reserve Bank and he imparted a great deal of knowledge of the theory and workings of the new system. He was asked a number of questions about the system that have bothered the smaller banks to which he gave prompt answer and explanation. In his address he said in part:

Mr. Kaim's Address

"Looking at these objections from my standpoint, they do not appear at all weighty in comparison with the fact that we now have an act in operation. A bank of banks, to which all bankers can come for redemptions without fear of refusal, provided the paper offered possesses the necessary liquidity; to issue Federal Reserve notes secured by these discounts, and against which a 40 per cent reserve of gold is held in addition making the entire medium of circulation of which I have heard, short of the warehouse receipts for the actual gold.

"The short history of these issues of Federal Reserve notes is, that they will not be issued unless needed, and when the need for them is over they will be returned. This giving the necessary elasticity to our monetary system, which, up to the present time, it has never had. We who have been through the hard times of the panic of 1892, 1907 and 1914, can appreciate what a boon to bankers and the country in general these qualities of safety and elasticity are. I am sure that we have the opinion expressed by hide bound crackers that the system will not be able to manage a panic. I have every confidence that it can handle any emergency that arises, but that it can and will so wisely and carefully regulate matters that we will not get within gunshot of a panic for generations.

Composition of Board

"Now, in regard to the fear expressed as to the probability of being unduly controlled by the Federal Reserve Board, I can personally vouch for the fact that the board as at present constituted consists of the highest caliber of men in integrity, some of them well versed in banking, all of them keen, intelligent men animated with an intense desire to make this Federal Reserve Act of the greatest possible assistance to the greatest number of its members along sound, well thought out business lines.

"As to the concern of the member banks ought to be allowed to carry a portion of their reserve with other banks in reserve cities instead of being obliged to place all such reserve with Federal Reserve banks, it is hoped by those in charge of the system that a plan will be evolved during the next two or three years which will compensate member banks to a considerable extent for the comparative disadvantages under which they apparently are at present in this respect. This, of course, will be in the nature of a plan for collection of checks and other items upon the most economical lines, but the plan is so far-reaching in its scope that it will have to be adopted one step at a time.

Difficulties Encountered

"As you all know, this bank was opened in the middle of November last, and since then we have had many new problems to meet at the time of opening money was still stringant, but it was apparent that money conditions were improving so rapidly that it did not require the powers of compulsion to force that by New Year we would be wallowing in idle money. So that instead of the resources of our system being drawn upon to any considerable extent, a deal of anxiety has been expressed in some quarters as to whether or not the Federal Reserve banks will be able to make their resources not to receive the dividend of 6 per cent on the stock which you gentlemen hold. I personally have no fears that we will come short in this respect, but I think it is probable that some time before we are able to pay dividends. However, it is not, I think, our object to do much more than this. We are endeavoring to keep the Federal Reserve banks in the shape of service banks. The bank certainly does not desire to enter into competition with the banks of its members, but it is going to do enough the Democratic nomination, too. The Republican party had the majority of all the registration, but it elected only one candidate, and he a non-partisan, with the Democratic nomination. The Progressives had the smallest registration, and they carried nearly everything—including the party primaries of both the other parties. The Democratic candidate for governor was so far behind that he counted with the "also-rans," while the Democratic candidate for senate was elected over both his opponents. On this, the one most partisan office of all, the Republican candidate, with the majority of all the voters in the state registered as Republicans, came out third in the race, while the Progressive candidate, with his party registration third, came out first in the vote outside of San Francisco, where he was beaten for local reasons, and a good second in the state even including San Francisco.

Theoretically, this issue is debatable. Up in the fog, there are two sides to it, but down on the ground the people have decided on one side of it, and they are acting on that side, even when they have no implements except those originally made and adopted for use or the other side. There is the theory of party efficiency, and of the lack of any other organizations for state-wide purposes. Against this is the fact that there is no party efficiency in California, and the only political efficiency it has ever seen was in organizations practically non-partisan. There is the theory of party responsibility—against which is the fact that there was never any such thing as actual party responsibility in California, and the only effective responsibility we have ever achieved was through other than partisan lines. There is the theory of party sentiment and loyalty—against which is the fact that such a thing exists in California.

The majority of the Progressives, for instance, refused to register with their party, and the majority of the Republicans and Democrats refused to vote their party tickets, or even to nominate Republicans or Democrats on them. And there is the theory that our only choice is between party government and personal government—against which is the fact that we never had anything but personal government under the old system, and never approached impersonal responsibility until we had destroyed the old party lines.

If there is any thing in the logic of facts, non-partisanship is already an accomplished thing in California, and awaits only the sanction of law to give it tools most convenient to its exercise. The arguments against it are all based on facts which either never existed or have ceased to exist, and on theories which find no present response in the actual sentiment of the people, as reflected in their actions.

use of the Federal Reserve banks for the benefit of both member banks and public, inasmuch as in time of trouble they will now be used and not hoarded as formerly, by providing an elastic circulating medium that can be expanded as far as there is any real and justifiable necessity; and by providing means for the banks to rediscount their self-liquidating paper, has made tremendous progress in the way of credit expansion, and that no matter what exigency may arise in the future which might necessitate changing other matters in the act, the three most mentioned of the industry has all ways been according to Lyman Stewart, the venerable head of the Union Oil Company who, with W. L. Harrison, sunk wells on lands near Santa Paula in the early seventies. The production of oil in California in 1876 was 12,000 barrels. This production was increased each year until 1888 when the output was 630,323 barrels. In 1889 the output decreased to 363,229 barrels. Then it began to climb again and every year it has been increased until the great aggregate of 105,000,000 barrels approximately was produced in 1914. The Standard Oil Company of California has prepared a tabulated statement of the proven area and the total production of crude petroleum in California during the 38 years since the industry was inaugurated. The tabulation does not include undrilled territory that is regarded as productive, but considers only the territory actually developed and proven. The figures follow:

California's Oil Output

(From the L. A. Financial News.)

The proven acreage of oil lands in California on December 31, 1914, was 31,365. From this acreage there has been produced since California entered the oil producing world in 1876 the enormous total of 761,692,641 barrels of crude petroleum. The first well, it will be remembered, was drilled in Ventura county, in 1866 by Thomas Scott although the successful launching of the industry has all ways been according to Lyman Stewart, the venerable head of the Union Oil Company who, with W. L. Harrison, sunk wells on lands near Santa Paula in the early seventies. The production of oil in California in 1876 was 12,000 barrels. This production was increased each year until 1888 when the output was 630,323 barrels. In 1889 the output decreased to 363,229 barrels. It will be seen by the above table that the McKittrick field has been the most prolific in the output in that its acreage is small, 1,545, the production per acre being 31,290. The total as shown by the figures tells a wonderful story of the petroleum industry of the State.

In connection with these figures regarding oil production it might be said that there are 800 incorporated oil companies in California, but of this number only 276 are producers.

In so far as ownership of the lands is concerned there is no monopoly. The state mineralogist is authority for this statement, as in his annual report he says:

"Miscellaneous producers hold 26 per cent of the land and the largest individual holding is that of the Kern Trading and Oil Company (Southern Pacific Railway) with 23 per cent. Ownership of the land by the three largest marketing companies is about equally divided, each having about 8 per cent and the agency slightly more."

Corporations Pay Tax

Fewer corporations in California have failed to pay their franchise taxes than in any other fiscal year since the State's new tax system went into effect, according to State Controller John S. Chambers. There is still $4,839.80 due to the State, however, for delinquent franchise taxes. Out of a tax levy of $13,530,774.41 in 1914, $13,515,903.64 has been paid by corporations.

Eighty per cent of all the moving pictures shown in the United States are produced in California. Los Angeles has just been designated as the distributing point of the Kriterion Motion Picture company, a corporation which is owned exclusively by California capital and which has a capitalization of $5,000,000. Every picture produced by this company bears the inscription "Made in California."

Another Suggestion for Betterment

(FROM THE RIVERSIDE PRESS)

The Press of yesterday indulged in some suggestions regarding the retail marketing end of the orange problem and in the line of a "continued story" proposes to discuss the hotel and restaurant phase of the situation.

California has a great opportunity to educate the eastern visitor on the wholesome and delicious character of California oranges and grapefruit in such a way as to make him "accuse the habit" and return home to be a booster for California fruit. Very little effort is made, however, to improve that opportunity. Riverside's Mission Inn serves great quantities of orange juice and conducts a real propaganda to convince people of the benefits of the drink. The hotel also supplies its guests with quantities of fine oranges without extra charge, and specializes on various salads and other dishes which tend to popularize the use of oranges and grapefruit. A splendid work is being done in this way for the benefit of the industry; and if the same sort of effort were duplicated all over the state, a great impetus would be given to the popularity of California citrus fruits. As a matter of fact, however, most of the hotels and restaurants patronized by tourists discourage the use of oranges and grapefruit by charging ridiculously high prices and by making no effort to popularize the use of orange juice and other delicious things which can be prepared from oranges, grapefruit and lemons. The railroads which are tremendously interested in the development of the industry are worse offenders than the hotels; and the fruit stands in California cities charge exorbitant prices for cull oranges when they ought to be supplying the tourists with the choicest fruit we have at moderate prices.

It would be a fine advertisement for California and a valuable aid to the citrus industry if the dining cars served every traveler an orange three times a day without charge; and, as a matter of state loyalty, something of the same courtesy might well be extended by the hotels and cafes which are frequented by tourists. As a matter of fact, however, the tourist is compelled to pay from 15 to 25 cents for half a grapefruit—which is at the rate of from $27 to $45 a box. What do you know about that? The price charged for oranges or orange juice is nearly as bad. You are asked to pay from 10 to 20 cents for a single orange or the juice of one. That is at the rate of from $12 to $18 a box for fruit that the grower is glad to sell at 75 cents to $1. It is true that you are expected to pay liberally for "service," but the margin is too great when you consider the importance for all interests in California of extending the market for our biggest fruit product. The Press is discussing the citrus fruit industry now, but the same rule would apply to olives, prunes, raisins, walnuts, peaches and other distinctly California products that are shipped east in large quantities. At the sacrifice of some of their profit on "service" the railroad, hotel and restaurant interests ought to be willing to co-operate in a campaign to educate the eastern visitor to a wider use of the good things of California while he is here.

It may not prove possible to work out a plan for securing this co-operation on the part of the hotel and railroad interests with the citrus industry; but it is certainly worth the effort. "Charity begins at home," and it would seem that as a preliminary to any campaign to secure a wider use of citrus fruit in the East, we should seek to enlarge the market in California and other coast states. The Exchange would seem to be the one organization best fitted to undertake this campaign of education; and it is to be hoped that the propaganda will receive the earnest consideration of the directors.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

Retired President Receives Token of Appreciation for Faithful Service

The W. C. T. U. held an interesting and well attended meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. L. Dearing, 1410 Bush St.

The devotional exercises were conducted by the Rev. A. L. Dearing, who also gave a splendid talk, emphasizing the fact that alcoholic beverages retard the efficiency of every person who indulges in their use. That the temperance cause has not made more progress is attributed to the fact that the church, as a whole, has not rallied to the support of the W. C. T. U. and other temperance organizations as it should have done.

The subject for the day was "The Temperance Movement Abroad," and the program was ably handled by Mrs. Lea Warren. Well-chosen extracts from leading periodicals were read by different members, giving latest news of the work in foreign countries, particularly those engaged in war.

A pleasing feature of the day was the presentation of a pendant, set with her birthday stone, to Mrs. Warren, who recently retired as president after filling that office for five years. This compliment came as a complete surprise to Mrs. Warren and though deeply moved by the words of praise and appreciation that accompanied the gift, she expressed her thanks with the sweet sincerity that is the keynote of the place which she holds in the hearts of her fellow workers.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. E. Ward, 424 West Second street.

Entertains at Country Home
A delightful little dinner company was entertained at Ingleside Ranch, the pleasant home of Miss Jessie Cullen and Miss Adell Charters, Sunday. Roses from the fine rose garden furnished the decoration for rooms and table. A full course turkey dinner was served at 1 o'clock, and the afternoon hours given to conversation and music with a late lunch of frozen dainties and cake. The guests were Dr. and Mrs. Henry G. Pyle of Long Beach, Miss Henriette Pyle, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Remsburg and Mrs. E. Leiby of Santa Ana and Mrs. Elizabeth Richards of St. Louis.

MESSAGE FROM LOCAL CIVICS CLUB

The week of April 19-24 inclusive, has been officially proclaimed as "Clean-up week" and the call for new recruits is issued daily at headquarters of the general register.

Officers of the Civics Club are now in the field calling to "Come over and help us." The cause is a just one, for cleanliness is next to godliness, and we need soldiers of action who are not afraid to take issue against all-destroying forces of the City Beautiful.

Civic righteousness is one of the greatest forces in well doing; then let us cleanse the corridors of our own souls so that we can wage this successful warfare and co-operate in ridding the city of all obnoxious objects that breed germs of destruction.

Let us turn spotlights on all secret places of corruption and drive from our portals all character assassins and strictly enforce the laws against these destroying elements.

The unruly tongue breeds scandal that fills untimely graves with the innocent just as rubbish that accumulates in the rear of business places and back yards, breeds flies and bacteria that endanger the lives of our loved ones.

The unsightly weeds breed slugs that destroy our vegetable gardens and we might go on and on citing these evils. Is it not time that people mobilize and wage war against these enemies and with true mobility of purpose march shoulder to shoulder, keeping step in the progress of time for the uplift of good and mankind and the City Beautiful?

POPULAR COUPLE WED

Miss Eva Nininger Becomes Bride of C. F. Hammette Pretty Ceremony

One of the prettiest weddings of the springtime was solemnized this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Nininger when their youngest daughter, Miss Eva M. Nininger, became the bride of Frank Hammette, Rev. A. C. Snowberger, who is an old friend of the family, performing the impressive ceremony which was preceded by the beautiful ballad "Mine Always, sung by Clifford Johnston.

The home had been beautifully decorated with ferns and white roses and beneath an artistic bower of fernery, studded with these fragrant flowers, the young couple plighted their marriage vows in the presence of the immediate family and a few friends. The winsome bride wore a simple gown of white embroidered voile with drapings of dainty lace and white girdle of white satin. A lovely bouquet of Cecil Bruner roses and maidenhair fern added a pleasing color note to the becoming costume.

Following the congratulatory period, an elaborate wedding breakfast was served to the wedding party. The table was centered with a beautiful wedding cake wreathed with Cecil Bruner roses and place cards were festooned with clusters of these fragrant blossoms and maidenhair ferns, the pink and white tints of the prevailing color scheme being reproduced in the delicious menu.

Covers were laid for Rev. and Mrs. Snowberger, Mr. and Mrs. Hammette, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Nininger, Mr. and Mrs. Max Harrell, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. C. and two children, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Everhart and daughter, Miss Ethel Everhart of Los Angeles, and Miss Alice Huntington.

The newly-weds left this morning in a Ford machine for Honeybrookland, their driver being Charles Christoph, president of the Ford Sales and Service Company, where Mr. Hammette is a salesman. Mr. Christoph, the genial chaperone, has another mission in view, as he will join Mrs. Christoph at San Diego and attend the exposition.

The bride is one of Santa Ana's most charming daughters and she and the man of her choice have a wide circle of friends who wish them a joyous future.

Upon returning from their wedding journey, Mr. and Mrs. Hammette will reside at 492 South Flower street, where a pretty new bungalow is completely furnished and ready for their occupancy.

Messages Worth While

Those who attended the revival services of the First Baptist Church were greeted with a wonderful message as Mrs. E. R. Henniston spoke to them. She possesses that rare talent of perfect ease and utmost control while addressing the audience.

Taking part of the 15th verse of the 10th chapter of 2nd Kings, she spoke of these words, "Is Thine Heart Right?" making it a personal question to all.

For more than six thousand years we know that God spoke to man through the patriots of old, but tonight He is calling to men through His own Son, calling us Godward and heavenward. We have the unsaved all about us, and we know that they are not reading God's holy word, but they are reading our lives, and they expect the Christians to be interested in their soul's salvation, and we can only reach them through personal contact, and when we realize that seven out of every ten are saved through personal work, isn't it time that we, God's people, should be busy in His vineyard? Invest your lives in His service, for it pays the largest dividends.

Rev. Henniston will preach this evening at 7:30, talking especially to the business men. On Thursday evening Mrs. Henniston will speak to the fathers and mothers, and she is particularly anxious that the house be well filled as she has an urgent message to the fathers and mothers of Santa Ana.

fully Entertains Members of Tustin Twelve

Mrs. Albert Fuller proved to be an ideal hostess yesterday when she entertained the members of the Tustin Twelve and two welcome guests at the beautiful home, corner of McFadden and Lyon streets.

Every member complimented their hostess with their presence and merrily whiled away the hours with social chat, as they busily engaged in fascinating crochet work, of which there were many beautiful and varied specimens.

Mrs. Drake entertained the congenial company with instrumental music during the afternoon and Mrs. C. E. Johnston sang several delightful vocal selections.

Bouquets of exquisite pink shaded Leon Detroit roses and plumosis ferns from Mrs. Fuller's flower garden added their floral charm throughout the rooms and a large vase of these fragrant flowers centered the prettily-appointed dining table where the guests enjoyed a dainty "five o'clock tea."

Places were marked by hand-painted cards, the clever handwork of Mrs. Fuller's talented children, Velda and Eldon, who also served the delicious repast. The treat in store for the guests consisted of chicken patties, olives, pickles, bread and butter sandwiches, coffee, home-made ice cream with crushed strawberries and a variety of cake.

Mrs. Coode Adams and Mrs. Charles Ward were guests of the club yesterday afternoon and Mrs. Arthur Hoefler will entertain the Tustin Twelve at their next meeting.

Birthday Celebration

Miss Pearl Duncan passed the fourteenth milestone in her happy youth Monday and in honor of this important event a merry birthday celebration was held that evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Duncan of Poinsetta avenue.

White roses, lilies and ferns beautifully decorated the rooms and after an amusing guessing contest the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

Presentations of delicious home-made cakes, sandwiches, fruit and candy were enjoyed by the guests, who showered their popular friend with pretty gifts and hearty congratulations.

Among those who joined in this happy celebration were Misses Pearl Duncan, honoree, and Verna Sears, Minnie and Maude Fowler, Mable Dalton, Irene Hartley and Goldie Dunn; Messrs. Raymond Gordan, Gilbert Criley, Ernest Legion, George Smith and Carl Coleman.

"Bobbie Burns in Costume"

Dr. James Henry McLaren, the dramatic orator of California, will appear at the First Presbyterian church Friday evening of this week. Dr. McLaren will give his unique lecture entitled "Bobbie Burns in Costume." A rare treat is promised and the public is cordially invited.

The following quotation is taken from the Long Beach Press: "Another full house greeted Robert Burns in the person of Dr. Henry McLaren in the First Presbyterian church last evening, this being the gifted impersonator's third appearance here. This time he was accompanied by two pipers who piped! After a preliminary talk on the life and works of the poet and while the assistant artists were giving the musical part of the program Dr. McLaren disappeared to re-appear as the poet himself, clothed in the native garb of Burns' time. In rich Scottish dialect he recited many of Burns' best poems interspersed with interesting incidents in his own (Burns) life, arousing a tumult of enthusiasm in his audience. A really delightful entertainment it was and given under the auspices of the Pastors' Aid Society."

Important Missionary Meeting
An important missionary meeting will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the First Christian Church when the state president, Mrs. Pearl Carson, of Pomona will be present and give an interesting talk.

The meeting will close with a social hour and gentlemen members and their friends are cordially invited to attend, a special invitation being extended to new members.

Shower for Bride

Miss Mildred Britton entertained the Charte N'Seau Club last evening and a thrill of excitement prevailed at this regular meeting as a favorite member, Miss Eva Nininger, met with them under this name for the last time.

After a short session over their needlework, the company was invited into the dining room. The table was centered with a bouquet of daisies and place cards were decorated with a tiny bridal couple and appropriate jingles.

After the serving of brick ice cream, cake and punch, a basket of miscellaneous gifts, daintily wrapped, were presented to Miss Nininger, who opened each package and prettily thanked her friends for this highly appreciated courtesy.

Members of this club include Mrs. Frank Hammette (nee Miss Eva Nininger) and Misses Grace White, Helene McNeil, Alice Huntington, Esther Fluor, Edna Meyers, Anna Walker, Irene Edwards, Jane Stanley, Fern Smith and Mildred Britton.

Picnic at County Park

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Eisle gave the latter's Sunday school class of the United Presbyterian church a jolly outing yesterday, Mr. Eisle taking the crowd to Orange County Park in a big hay wagon.

A wienie roast was enjoyed at noon-time when a bountiful picnic lunch was spread under the trees, and a climb over the hills was the strenuous diversion of the afternoon before the merry homeward journey.

Informal Dinner Party

Attorney and Mrs. E. T. Langley entertained yesterday with a pleasantly informal noon-time dinner complying Mrs. Bowles of Nebraska, who, with her son, George, is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Maryatt.

Covers were laid for the guest of honor, Mrs. Bowles, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Maryatt, Mrs. Mary S. Emerson, Mr. and Mrs. Langley and Master George Bowles.

Will Give Breakfast

The Sixth Economic Section of the Ebell club will give a breakfast Friday morning at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. W. D. Baker, 618 French street.

Pilgrim's Progress

A large audience was present at the First M. E. Church last evening to witness the presentation of John Bunyan's

The first reel is an outline of Bunyan's life prior to his conversion. The following reels show his home life, arrest, trial and imprisonment, and lead up to his dream in Bedford jail.

Pilgrim's Progress is the story of Bunyan's dream, to illustrate the Christian Pilgrim's life from the time he leaves the city of destruction to the entrance into glory. All these different experiences are illustrated by motion pictures. The lecture by Colonel Ray and the music by Mrs. Ray added much to the excellence of the entertainment.

The entertainment is given under the auspices of the Epworth League and will begin at 8 o'clock this evening.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

FUNDS FOR RELIEF ARE DISTRIBUTED

Large Contributions Put up in Holland, England, Germany, France and Switzerland

(Christian Science Monitor)

In response to the call for contributions for the relief of Christian Scientists in distress by reason of the present war in Europe, the sum of $82,104.02 has been received by the treasurer of the Mother Church. Of this amount $77,595.51 has been disbursed to the relief committees organized by Mr. McCracken in England, Germany, France and Switzerland, as called for by them. Much gratitude has been expressed by the Christian Scientists in these countries for the help extended to them by their brethren in America.

In addition to the $82,104.02 collected for the relief of Christian Scientists, there has also been collected the sum of $29,154.90 for the relief of war sufferers other than Christian Scientists. This entire amount has been disbursed to relief committees of Christian Scientists in Holland, England, Germany, France and Switzerland. The total amount received to date for these two funds is $111,258.92, of which but $4508.51 remains unexpended. As the need for help still continues, this small balance will not last long; therefore Christian Scientists are given the opportunity to continue to send contributions to the treasurer of the Mother Church for this relief work.

For the future it is proposed to maintain but one fund, and from this both Christian Scientists and others will be assisted.

INSOLENCE OF OFFICE

Westminster Gazette

A gentleman is bold enough to write to the Times, giving his name and complaining of the "high-handed" methods of the passports department at the foreign office. His grievance is that on the form of application for a passport he described his face as "intelligent," but that the passport when he got it made his face "oval." We have called this a bold complaint, because, after all, it is just conceivable that the high-handed official might defend himself by asserting that he altered an incorrect description to a true one. We hasten to add that we do not know the gentleman with the face variously described as "intelligent" or "oval," so that we take no sides in the controversy between him and the official.

UBLISHED EVERY EVENING EXCEPT SUNDAY BY THE

San Francisco city bonds are no longer legal investments for the savings banks of New York. This is the opinion of the Attorney General of the State who gave the opinion when the question of the legality of these bonds was raised by the State Banking Department in 1919 by an amendment to the Constitution, the State of California inaugurated a system of taxing public service corporations directly by the State and exempting the same from municipal taxation. Through the withdrawal of these properties the indebtedness of the city of San Francisco now exceeds 7 per cent of the assessed value of the property of the city for the purposes of taxation. The net debt of the city of San Francisco, $39,000,000, slightly exceeds 7 per cent of the assessed valuation of the real and personal property of the city, $23,000,000. Recently the city issued $1,777,000 more bonds, so that the New York authorities declare that there can no longer be any question but that the debt exceeds the limit fixed by the New York state banking law for savings bank investment purposes. It was suggested to the State officials that the indebtedness of the city might be prorated over public service and other properties so that the bonds might be made to comply with the statute, but Attorney General Woodbury pointed out that no such method is permitted by the New York statute, which contemplates that every bond issue must look to all taxable property of the city as a source of payment.

Bond Issues Approved
Calipatria school district has voted a bond issue of $40,000 for the purpose of building an eighth grade grammar school the issue to run twenty years and bears six per cent interest.

Voters of Livermore have voted a bond issue of $50,000 for the purpose of building a new high school building. The vote was 450 for to 180 against or 70 votes more than the necessary two-thirds.

Bond Issues Sold
Yuba County has sold the $10,000 State highway bonds to the Halsey Company of San Francisco. The price paid was $28,214. The issue bears six per cent interest. In addition to the loss on the sale of the bonds of $1756 the Board of Supervisors estimates that the county will pay $1600 annual interest.

The hospital bond issue of San Bernardino County purchased by Terrance Marshall & Co., the W. B. Compton company and C. W. McNair company, have been turned over to the purchasers.

Huntington Beach bond issue of $50,000 sold to Frank L. Miller & Co., brought a premium of $5,000.

Glendora School bond issue of $5000 has been sold to Halsey & Co., of San Francisco, at a premium of $523 and accrued interest. There were sixteen bidders for the issue.

Yuma County, Arizona, has just sold a bond issue of $500,000 for the construction of two highways through the lands of the reclamation district owned by the government to a Chicago bond house.

Galatin school bond issue, Los Angeles County, has been sold at a premium of $10,550.

Bond buyers who recently submitted bids for bond issues of San Diego to the amount of $411,000 are to build on the part of the treasurer of that city in selling the bonds to a party that had submitted no proposition. After proposals had been submitted they were all rejected.

Then City Treasurer Stewart, according to the San Diego Union, held a conference with Col. A. L. Spitzer, a member of a Toledo, Ohio, bond buying syndicate who is at Pasadena for the winter, and the issues were awarded to him at a little better than 50 for the entire lot. Union declares that two San Diego houses stood ready to make a better offer than the one for which the bonds sold. The price paid places the securities on a 4 1/2 basis.

Proposed Bond Issues
Oceanside City Trustees are considering the matter of calling an election to vote on a proposal to issue $30,000 bonds for municipal improvements.

Miscellaneous Bond News
An offer of the Anglo-London and Paris

to the new federal anti-narcotic law

National Bank of San Francisco to purchase the remainder of the $1,750,000 bond issue of San Bernardino County highway bonds at a premium of $7,500 was declined by the Board of Supervisors as it was also decided not to issue the remainder of the bonds unless San Bernardino would keep the money at four per cent interest. The San Bernardino bank has already purchased $500,000 of the county highway bonds.

A booster club made up of enthusiastic citizens of Lower Lake in Lake County is urging a bond issue of the supervisory district in which their town is located of $20,000 for highway purposes.

Proposals for Bonds
Supervisors of Kern County will receive bids up to 2 o'clock p. m. May 6, for the purpose of all or any part of a $500,000 highway bond issue of a total of $2,500,000 for the highway bonds of the county. The bonds are dated September 1st, 1913, bear five per cent per annum payable semi-annually and are payable 25 each year beginning September 1st, 1915.

City Clerk of Hemet will receive bids until 7:30 p. m. April 12 for the purchase of $2000 fire protection bonds. The issue is in denomination of $100 each, bears six per cent interest payable semi-annually and redeemable two each year beginning April 1, 1916, also for the purchase of $2000 sewer bonds bearing same rate of interest and redeemable three each year beginning April 1, 1916.

Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors will receive bids until 4 p. m. April 19 for the purchase of $6000 Glendale School District bonds. Bonds will be dated April 1, 1915, are in denomination of $1000 each, bear interest at rate of 5 1/2 per cent per annum and redeemable one year beginning April 1, 1920. The assessed valuation of taxable property in the school district for the year 1914 is $5,457,900.00 and the amount of bonds previously issued and now outstanding is $1,500,000.00. Glendale City School District includes an area of approximately 13.50 square miles and the estimated population of said district is eleven thousand.

Supervisors of Pinal County, Arizona, have called an election for Saturday, May 1, for the purpose of voting on a $150,000 bond issue for road purposes. That there will be but little difficulty in disposing of the issue should it be approved by the people is shown by the fact that the representative of the bond issue, J. W. Denver, who was present when the board made the order for the election agreed to take the issue at par and pay five per cent should no higher bid be made.

Sidney Spitzer & Co., of Toledo, Ohio, have taken up another $50,000 worth of Long Beach sewer bonds. This makes $200,000 which the company has taken.

All Over California
(From the L. A. Financial News.)

Last year Monterey County produced 56,000 tons of barley and 9000 tons of wheat. Some of the barley sold as high as $1.40 per hundred and the wheat at $2.35. It is expected that the Jolon country alone will this year produce 3500 tons of wheat. Last year 265,000 tons of beets were raised, for which the farmers received over $1,000,000. This year will probably exceed last. The greatest increase will be in summer crops, such as corn, beans and pumpkins. There will be 12,000 acres of beans planted within fifteen miles of Salinas. Most of the beans will be whites and pinks, a few limas. Corn will double last year's acreage.

For the first time in the history of reclamation district 1001 located in the vicinity of Nicolaus it is free from seepage or overflow water. This permits the planting of the vast acreage to all products of the soil three months earlier than was possible while the reclamation work was in progress. The reclamation work, which was commenced four years ago, is about complete at a cost of $1,340,000. More than 33,000 acres have been reclaimed, and what formerly comprised a desert of several square miles will now be corn, wheat, barley and alfalfa. Beans will also be grown. The planting is now well under way.

The wonderful productivity of California soil is shown by Frank Rogers of Garden Grove, Orange County, who has just harvested four crops from a three acre tract. The first was barley turned under as a cover crop followed by potatoes which returned $25 per acre; lima beans followed three days after the spuds were harvested and the yield was 400 bushels per acre; corn which brought $70 per acre. All this between February 15, 1914, and February 15, 1915.

The Nevada, California and Oregon Railway Company has just purchased 30,000 acres of land in the Madeline plain, Lassen County, and the property has been thrown open to settlers, the first settlers from a colony of seven Russian Baptist families. Soledad is soon to have a creamery. Within a ten-mile radius of that place there are 4000 acres in alfalfa and when the David Jackson corporation, Pedro Zabala and Tom Fields finish planting their alfalfa fields there will be 2000 acres. Already 1200 cows have been signed up and prospects are good for as many more so that the creamery will start off with a large production.

Alfalfa harvesting is on in Kings County. As the early crops are always among the heaviest, this should mean upward of 100,000 additional tons from Kings County ranchers $1,750,000. With the greater acreage due to fall and spring sowings and additional crops, the $2,000,000 mark should be passed this year.

The ripe olive of California was started upon its march to commercial triumph by Mrs. Freda Elmann of Oroville, who had been forced to take over a grove for a debt. In the state there are planted to olives in round numbers 20,000 acres from which is produced 4000 tons of preserved fruit and 8000 tons of olive oil. The greatest olive orchard in the world is located in Los Angeles County. The value of the orchards is given at $8,000,000.

Contracts to plow and grade 3000 acres of virgin land on the Whetberly ranch, near Terra Bella, have been signed by J. B. Garver, who also has contracted to plow and grade 500 acres of orange land on the Whetberly ranch. The site of the factory is called "Glass City."

The oldest commercial electrical power plant in the State, the plant between Riverside and Highgrove, was destroyed by fire on Sunday.

Hemet this week shipped a car load of ripe olives from the cannery at that point the fruit coming from the Big Springs ranch.

Wild rabbits are causing great damage to the orchards in the region about Yucca City. In one orchard every tree was injured.

Seventy-six tons of ore from the Consolidated 5-stamp mill in the Randburg district produced a gold brick valued at $2000.

According to a Government report, there is an annual runoff of 471,000 acre-feet of water from the American river in El Dorado County.

The famous old Coppersmith ranch of 2100 acres in Alameda County has been sold to Frank and Fred Murphy who will subdivide it.

CASTLE EXPERIENCE

Not long ago one of America's foremost business men made the following statement:

"The most perilous part of a man's life is when he fancies there is an easier way of making a dollar than by earning it squarely."

Hundreds of millions are lost every year in speculation. For everyone who wins there are a thousand who lose. Too late they find out that the "sure thing" has swallowed the little they had to invest.

MANY SEEK FOR APPOINTMENTS UNDER NEW BOARD

With the selection of a new Board of City Trustees comes the hunt for appointments.

When the terms of the present City Trustees end on April 19, the terms of the appointive officers also end. Trustees Visel, Tubbs, Maryatt, McPhee and Greenleaf will take their first ballot upon the election of a president of the board.

Already there are at least five candidates for appointment as street superintendent. Among them are A. D. Swartzel, who has been an inspector of paving; G. W. Angle, a former county supervisor; A. J. Dresser, William Whitney, an ex-city trustee, and N. L. Galbraith, a contractor.

W. N. Carter, John Pugh and F. M. Gilbert are applicants for appointment as janitor and desk policeman at the city hall. The position is now held by Gilbert.

The policemen are all candidates for reappointment. They are C. L. Pond, day policeman, Sid Smithwick, John Ryan and R. E. Delaney, night policemen.

So far as can be learned City Engineer Bonebrake has no opponent for reappointment.

Ransom Reid, who has long been superintendent of the water and sewer departments, does not expect to ask for appointment. Some time ago he notified the present city board that it was his desire to quit, but he has been remaining in charge of the departments until the administration ends.

The new board will appoint a new board of health, which has the appointment of the city health officer. City Health Officer J. L. Clark will be an applicant for reappointment. Dr. J. F. Doyle will be an applicant.

Work of Railroad Commission

(From the L. A. Financial News.)

Public Utilities of California during the year ended December 31, 1914, were authorized, by the State Railroad Commission, according to its annual report, to issue securities to the amount of $226,725,501.38 as follows:

Class of utility—	Amount.	Per cent of total amount authorized
Steam railroads.....	$128,744,182.25	61.20
Electric railways.....	17,372,185.57	7.66
Gas and electric companies.....	48,469,780.11	21.28
Water companies.....	10,670,607.87	4.71
Telephone and Tel. companies.....	182,345.18	.08
Warehouse Co's.....	1,119,600.00	.49
Pipe line Co's.....	10,066,800.00	4.44
Car companies.....	100,000.00	.04
Total.....	$226,725,501.38	100.00

The purposes for which these securities were authorized may be segregated as follows:

	Per cent.
New construction.....	52.55
Refunding.....	27.41
Collateral.....	3.96
Miscellaneous.....	1.18
Total.....	100.00

Applications for the issuance of $17,000,000 in securities were refused or dismissed during the year. The securities authorized during 1914 exceed those permitted for the entire year of 1913, and the nine months of 1912. While no accurate figures are available for the period prior to 1912, it is thought that the securities issued during 1914 were the greatest in the history of California. Of the securities authorized or about to be issued it is estimated that 75 per cent were by public service corporations.

The record of new development shows that work was carried forward during 1914 on 700 miles of projected new railway enterprises. In addition the power companies carried forward projects embracing approximately 100,000 additional horse power for the State. Among the larger issues of securities authorized during the year were the following:

Railroads.
San Diego and Arizona Railway Company $10,000,000 bonds and $2,000,000 stock for the purpose of constructing and completing a standard gauge steam railway from San Diego into the Imperial Valley, a distance of 140 miles bringing Imperial Valley 100 miles closer to the sea and connecting it by rail to San Diego.

The Southern Pacific Company $25,000,000 of bonds, which were sold to the stockholders. Of this amount $21,500,000 was for the purpose of constructing and completing the new railway from Los Angeles to San Jose, Cal., for construction on the Mojave-Bakersfield line; for additional double tracking in California; for the extension of the Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley electric lines; for new depots at San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland and other points; for block signaling and reduction of mountain grades; also $1,500,000 of equipment trust certificates for the purchase of forty locomotives, fifty passenger coaches and twenty-five motor coaches; also $2,614,000 of bonds for bridges, yard improvements, industry line and other extensions throughout its system.

The Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company $5,534,000 of bonds to extend its line of railway from Ukiah to Siskiyou, in Northern California, a distance of 120 miles to connect up the gap, thus giving through rail connections from San Francisco to Eureka.

The Clear Lake Railroad Company $75,000 of stock and $500,000 of bonds to construct a railroad from Hopland to Lakeport, a distance of twenty-four miles. This is still in abeyance.

The Minkler Southern Railway, a subsidiary of the Santa Fe for the construction of a new line in the San Joaquin Valley, extending from Minkler, in Fresno county, to Exeter, in Tulare county, a distance of forty miles, opening up a rich foothill citrus section. This project was financed at a cost of $700,000.

The Los Angeles and San Diego Beach Railway Company $275,000 of bonds to electrify its railways from San Diego to La Jolla.

The Death Valley Railroad Company $100,000 in securities to build a new railway to Death Valley for a distance of sixteen miles, to open up new borax deposits.

The San Diego Electric Railway Company $1,497,000 to refund outstanding securities and to extend the electric railway system of San Diego into new sections of the city.

The Pacific Electric Railway $2,000,000 bonds to be used for the construction of a new line from Los Angeles to San Bernardino, a distance of approximately sixty miles, and for the purpose of building new lines into recently developed sections of the San Fernando Valley.

The California Street Cable Railroad Company of San Francisco $384,000 of bonds to refund its outstanding indebtedness.

The United Railroads of San Francisco securities to purchase sixty-five new cars.

Gas and Electric.
The Pacific Gas and Electric Company approximately $25,000,000 of securities, a portion of which is to be used for refunding, the greater part was to defray the cost of the company's extensive hydro-electric project at Lake Shastad and for extending its system throughout the State to take care of new consumers.

HEATHMAN SAYS BALLOTS ARE ALL VALID

This afternoon City Attorney Heathman declared that the mistake in printing of the tickets used in Monday's city election will not invalidate the election, even should a contest be brought. He stated that he and Attorney Ater, who has a statement of the matter elsewhere in this paper, looked the law up, and their conclusion was that the ballots would not be thrown out. In the city attorney's opinion, which will be printed in full tomorrow, appear quotations from several supreme court cases.

"We wish to say in this connection," said Heathman, "that in the recent city election no blame whatever can be attached to the election officers because they allowed the numbers to remain on the ballot and afterwards deposited the ballots with the numbers thereon. But from the foregoing reasoning it is very clear that our supreme court has held that the votes cast by the voters are not illegal nor is the election void because those numbers were on the ballots, because the voters put no distinguishing marks on the ballots, and this being so, their ballots cannot be disregarded nor the election held to be void, nor can any cloud be cast on the proceedings for any hands that this city or its school board may issue.

"In Langley vs. Head, 142 Cal. 358, a case which arose in Orange county in a contested election, it was held that the tearing of a ballot by an election officer does not justify its exclusion from the count. This principle of law applied to the fact that when the mistake was found on the ballot by the misplaced perforated line that the election officers with a penknife cut the ballot before the number so as to leave the number on the stub and the majority of the ballots cast at the recent election were thus severed from the block or pads. From this reasoning, misplaced perforated line the election officers to count all the ballots that went into the ballot box regardless of all errors in the printing office or those made by the election officers, provided they were not distinguishing marks made by the voters themselves.

"In conclusion, I am of the opinion that the errors or mistakes complained of do not invalidate the election so far as the rights of any candidate may be concerned, nor does it invalidate the election so far as the board of trustees and treasurer is concerned in the event that the city may issue bonds within the next four years when the proceedings of the board and the election of the members of the board will be required into by the bond buyers, and the signature of the treasurer will also be upon such bonds and the legality of her election inquired into."

TO START SUIT ON $15 A DAY LICENSE

Action is to be started by the city authorities to enforce one of the new features of the license ordinance recently passed by the City Trustees. The Hughes Shoe Company gave a bond to stay in business six months or pay a license of $15 a day for the time it was in business. The company quit business about thirty-five days after it started business with a $6 a year license. Action against the bondsmen will be for about $25.

The new license law is designed to check men that come here to remain but a short time and make a clean up on bankruptcy sales and upon other schemes of that kind. The license per year for the ordinary business house is $6 a year. For the transients it is $15 a day. It was thought well to have a provision to prevent a firm saying it was going to be permanent when it was not going to be permanent. The provision calls for a $500 bond.

On April 5 the Hughes Shoe Company gave a $500 bond with W. L. Hughes as the principal and Hugh A. Porteous and J. A. Dolcater of Covina as sureties. The Hughes company quit business last Monday. It had a store in the Rossmore building.

Today City Clerk Lester turned the bond over to City Attorney Heathman to take whatever action is necessary to collect upon the bond.

MINNESOTA TO FLOAT TONIGHT, SAY OFFICERS

SEATTLE, April 14.—Great Northern steamship officials today are confident that the liner "Minnesota," aground in the Inland Sea of Japan, will be floated before night. The pumps have practically freed her hold of water and the cargo has been moved, the vessel being greatly lightened at the grounded end.

BURGLARS LOOT HOME OF WEDDING GIFTS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—Burglars this morning pilfered the mansion of George Mayerle, Jr., of diamonds and jewelry, wedding presents, valued at several thousand dollars. It is believed professional gem thieves operated.

TOMORROW IS DAY CIRCUS IS TO DO STUNTS IN SANTA ANA

Tomorrow the rushing of switch engines as they clatter here and there in the railroad yards with great strings of gaudy cars. Tomorrow the tugging of horses and a rush of work for several hundred persons that a city may reap a benefit of happiness. For tomorrow the circus is coming, coming with its great trucking wagons, its shouting, hard-working "razorbacks," and plank men, its waving banners and flags, its brass throated bands.

The circus is coming to town and that before noon tomorrow, while the great parade winds its way through the downtown streets, the big tents of the Sells-Floto Circus and Buffalo Bill's Original Wild West will be ready and waiting for the crowds it will invite.

And, incidentally, there are plenty of attractions this year to bring those crowds, even beyond the fact that the price of the circus remains the same as ever, a general admission of twenty-five cents, including a seat. There will be Rosa Rosalind, for instance, a "find" on the part of the Sells-Floto Circus, and a rider so wonderful that she agrees by her contract to forfeit her day's salary if she does not perform a feat of equestrianism. There are the forty clowns, too; Marguerite and Captain Dutch Record, who train lions

WOMAN STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY

Unconscious from a stroke of apoplexy, Miss Edith McMillan, presumably of 728 Nicolette avenue, Minneapolis, Minn., and who has been sojourning at Laguna Beach, is at the Santa Ana hospital in a critical condition.

Miss McMillan is a woman of about 60 years of age. Among her effects was found a blank postcard addressed to Miss C. E. McMillan, 728 Nicolette avenue, Minneapolis, Minn. The name "Edith McMillan" is also written on the outside of a valise belonging to the stricken woman, which fact practically removes all doubt as to her identity.

It was not known at the hospital this afternoon whether Miss McMillan has a chance for recovery.

The woman was attended at Laguna immediately following the stroke this morning by Dr. E. C. Day, who is staying at the resort. Dr. Day turned the case over to local physicians.

Failure Union Oil Deal
Commenting on the failure of the British Syndicate to complete its deal for control of the Union Oil Company of California, the Boston Herald says:

"We note with entire satisfaction the failure of a foreign syndicate to obtain possession of a group of America's great oil fields. The would-be buyers were after fuel for a section of the British mercantile marine, and it is not probable that their design extended to the acquisition of a sure supply for the British navy. Some twelve months ago they secured an option on the Union Oil Corporation for the purchase of its extensive property in California. That was the time when Lord Cowling's Mexican Eagle company began to find difficulty in getting its oil out of the revolution-ridden country, and started Lord Murray on his expedition to secure control of the oil fields of Venezuela, Colombia, and Ecuador. Since then the British government has persuaded Canada to reserve her oil wells for the use of the imperial navy in time of national peril, and has for $3,000,000 bought a controlling interest in the company which works the oil wells of Persia. But at the last the negotiations for the California fuel supply has failed.

"The syndicate is sound enough and it meant business. Among its members are Lord Pirrie, who is at the head of two great shipbuilding firms; Sir Thomas Boydell, deputy-chairman of the Cunard Company; and Mr. Andrew Weir of Liverpool, who has steamers in every sea, and directs the General Petroleum Company which secured the California option. For this they put down $2,400,000. But the war in Europe has caused the belligerent governments to impose serious restrictions, and the British syndicate finds itself barred from completion of the intended purchase, and limited to a part of the stock valued at the amount of the option deposit. Though the vast fuel prospect has faded from view of the investors, they have got value for their money; American interests retain control, with which they should not again think of parting; and so everybody ought to be satisfied."
